REFERENDUM FOR SIX (6) ELECTED COUNCIL MEMBERS

A motion was made by Council Member Pelley to have a referendum on the November 2010 ballot wherein the citizens of Athens will determine if they will have six (6) elected council members. The motion died for lack of a second.

Mayor Buttram commented that these items had been thoroughly discussed by the Council at the April Work Session. Anyone that was interested in hearing the work session discussion could get a copy of the meeting on CD from the City Manager's Office. Council Member Pelley requested a point of personal privilege. Mayor Buttram stated that he was not going to recognize Council Member Pelley's point of personal privilege. The reason he made his comment was because they had discussed those items thoroughly at work session and anyone could get a copy of that work session and listen to the discussion. Council Member Pelley stated that he would like to challenge the decision of the chair and that it was a non-debatable motion. Mayor Buttram asked Council Member Pelley to state the nature of his challenge. Mr. Pelley stated that he was challenging the Mayor's decision not allow him to have a point of personal privilege. Mayor Buttram stated that they were going to vote on whether or not Council Member Pelley can take time at the council meeting for his personal privilege. He stated that the point he was trying to make was that they could bring this item up at another work session if they wanted to discuss it further. They had discussed this at their retreat and again at their work session. He instructed the council that if they were in favor of granting Council Member Pelley his point of personal privilege then they should vote aye, if they wanted to move on they should vote nay. Upon roll call vote, the motion failed by the following vote:

AYES: Jackson, Pelley
NAYS: Davis, Perkinson, Buttram
