BUFFALO GROVE NAMED MOST EDUCATED CITY IN ILLINOIS

The award was given by Insurify, an online platform that analyzed the educational achievement levels of 1.4 million individuals across the U.S.

Buffalo Grove, Illinois – Buffalo Grove has received the Most Educated Cities Award in Illinois, from Insurify. Just one community in each of the 50 states receives this award, which recognizes the town whose residents have the highest rated educational achievements.

“We are very pleased as a Village to be honored with this award,” said Village President Beverly Sussman. “I am a strong proponent of education and believe it is an important factor in achieving professional success and building stronger communities.”

Insurify is an online platform that provides car insurance comparisons at no cost to its users. More than 1.4 million auto insurance applications submitted through the platform provided the educational history of each applicant. Individuals were then given a score based on the level of education they had attained, or the grade point average for those who were still attending a post-secondary school. Results were then grouped by community and the top scorer was identified in each state across the country.
