Buffalo Grove Police Arrest Woman for Selling Counterfeit Luxury Goods

Buffalo Grove, IL. – Buffalo Grove Police concluded a six-week investigation into the selling of counterfeit goods with the arrest of Roksolana Pulley, owner of Roksolana, Inc., 400 W. Dundee Road in Buffalo Grove.

Pulley, 44, was charged in the early morning hours of July 18, 2019 with four felony charges relating to the sale of the counterfeit items. Three of those charges are considered a Class 3 Felony, with the remaining charge being a Class 2 Felony. The charges are based on the number of counterfeit items in Pulley's possession at the time of the arrest.

Police were first made aware of the illegal operation in May of 2019, after receiving a call from the Department of Homeland Security (DHS). According to DHS, high-end fashion company, Louis Vuitton Malletier - most commonly referred to as 'Louis Vuitton®' - received an anonymous tip stating that a Buffalo Grove, Illinois business was illegally selling counterfeit items. Throughout the investigation, two undercover purchases were made at the store, and items were verified as counterfeit through agents employed by Louis Vuitton®.

Once the items were verified as counterfeit, a search warrant was granted by the Cook County State's Attorney's Office late on July 17 and the warrant was subsequently served.

Investigators from the Buffalo Grove Police Department seized more than 1,900 items with an aggregate value of approximately $38,000. The counterfeit items included purses, wallets, shoes, and clothing identified with brand names including Louis Vuitton®, Gucci®, Chanel®, and Burberry®.

Pulley attended bond court at the Cook County Rolling Meadows Courthouse July 18 and received a Personal Recognizance Bond. She is due back in court August 29, 2019 in Rolling Meadows, room 108 at 1:30 p.m.
