EASTERN POINT, Sunday, Aug. 4.

The most interesting event of the week at Eastern Point was the bridge whist held in the hall room of the Griswold, where over 100 played for Thrift Stamp prizes. The affair was given by the Woman's Association of Eastern Point for the benefit of the Y. M. C. A. and almost $1,000 was raised by donations and the sale of tables. Much credit for the success of the affair is due to Mrs. Edward Nugent, Mrs. F. A. Lund and Mrs. J. L. Hughes, who acted as a committee on arrangements. Among the prize winners were Mrs. Edward L. Morgan of New York, Mrs. Byron Nugent of St. Louis, Mrs. Alva Oatman of New York, Miss Stone of Springfield, Mass., Mrs. J. R. Linsey and Mrs. William A. Norton.

The younger set have also been busy in raising war relief funds and at a porch party given at the home of Mrs. Burnett Nash, $93 was realized, which was turned over to the Red Cross. The young girls who were active in raising the funds were Misses Dorothy and Mildred Phelps, Jean Ferguson, Mary Rowena and Katherine Nash.

Golfers at the Shenecossett Country Club are looking forward to an interesting four-ball match on Sunday, when Lieutenant Francis Ouimet and Jesse Guilford, who won so many matches last summer will appear in a Red Cross match against Jerome D. Travers, former open and amateur champion, and John G. Anderson. The same foursome played at Englewood last fall and the Bostonians were the winners.

Farming has become a fad among the boys at Eastern Point this summer and several boys have forgone their vacation pleasures to help Uncle Sam in harvesting his crop. Among them are Don Ferguson, Malcolm Smith, Phillip Plant and Montgomery Vail.

Alphonse Jongers and C. Warde Traver, well known portrait painters, are spending the summer at Eastern Point. Mr. Traver, who recently arrived, has begun work on a portrait of Mrs. C. D. Talcott of Talcottville.

The woman's championship golf tournament will begin on Tuesday on the links of the Shenecossett Country Club. A number of women golfers are here practicing for this event. The holder of the title, Mrs. F. C. Jones, of Memphis, Tenn., will not defend the championship this year.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Cowles of Hartford came to the Griswold early in the week and will remain for some time. During the coming week they contemplate several automobile trips in this vicinity. While here Mr. Cowles received a cablegram from one of his sons, who is in the trenches "over there."

Mrs. Everett Lake of Hartford, who is one of the cottage colony at Eastern Point, entertained a few guests at dinner last week at their home on Shore avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Bradley and son, Harold of Chicago, are at the Griswold as the guests of Mrs. M. N. Judd of New Britain. Young Bradley is now a lieutenant in the aviation corps.

Mrs. and Colonel F. J. Regan of Rockville have Miss Anna C. Wolfe as their guest at the Griswold this week.

Mrs. Edward Hooker entertained a number of friends at luncheon recently at the Griswold.

Miss Esther Tufts of Boston has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Maxwell on Shore avenue. Miss Tufts is an expert horsewoman and rides a great deal at Pinchurst, N. C., during the winter.

Miss Nellie Kershaw of Philadelphia, Pa., has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. George Stevenson, who has one of the largest cottages at Eastern Point. Another guest here during the past week was Lieutenant Miller of the United States navy, whose home is in Boston. A card party was given in their honor recently.

Mrs. Margaret J. Currihan of Montreal, Can., has been visiting Mrs. W. O. McDonald for two weeks.

Dr. James A. Somers of Brooklyn, N. Y., is one of the late arrivals at Eastern Point. He will open his cottage for the first time this season.

The Womans' Association of Eastern Point contemplate an entertainment at the Griswold soon. Details will be given later.

Mrs. Robert Moore entertained Miss Jones, Mrs. Kirk, Mrs. Armstrong and other guests at tea at the Golf Club on Saturday.

Mrs. J. A. Bostwick of New York has arrived at the Griswold for the rest of the summer.

Mrs. R. Cadwell and Miss Florence Cadwell of Hartford have taken a cottage at Watch Hill, R. I., for the summer, but there is seldom a week that they do not drive over to Eastern Point to call on Mrs. Cadwell's daughter, Mrs. M. F. Plant.
