Library Construction

If you’ve driven Main Street at 300 North, you’ve seen the steel structure for the new library. After initial delays for concrete, the building is back on schedule for completion late next summer. The library is operating from a temporary location at 950 West 600 North.
Center Block Plaza Update

This project has also experienced delays getting materials and concrete. Utility work on the new plaza will begin after Labor Day and requires trenching into Main Street. This will be done during the night to mitigate impacts to traffic. The sidewalk and parking on Main will also be impacted for a few weeks. The worker is setting forms for the stage in the Northwest corner of the plaza. If you're wondering why the Tabernacle in the background is scaffolded, the church is doing seismic reinforcements which should be completed by mid-late 2023. More good work to revitalize our historic downtown!
New Bridge at 100 West and 700 South

This new bridge will connect 100 West with US 89/91. The completion date is June 2023. This photo shows night work on the bridge. It takes many hours to finish and smooth the huge concrete pours required. During hot summer days concrete can start to set in 30 minutes, so they have to work when it's cooler on a big pour. The bridge, and new roadways on either side, are a $12 Million investment in our transportation infrastructure. Logan received about half that amount in a grants approved by the Council of Governments (COG) which determines how county transportation tax dollars are allocated, and the Cache Metropolitan Planning Organization (CMPO.)

Public Art

The city has a new Public Art Plan and our first three projects were murals in city parks this summer. One is at the Soccer Park Complex and two in Merlin Olsen Park (one on the building, the other in the tunnel that connects the trail system from the park to the Boulevard Trail under Center Street.) Take a look if you haven't seen them.
