The City of Plainfield Reveals New Website

September 9, 2021 – Plainfield, NJ the City of Plainfield revealed a newly remodeled website (plainfieldnj.gov).

On September 1, 2021, residents and visitors to the city's website were greeted with a new look and interface. The website's thoughtful redesign considered feedback received from various community members and stakeholders combined with current best practices.

The city retains its original domain name www.plainfieldnj.gov

The new design features user-friendly features such as Quick Link buttons on the Home Page to take users to heavily visited sections of the website. There are links to Popular Resources, ensuring intuitive navigation across the site. Visitors to the website will find the information they need with ease. The website, which opens up to a sweeping video showcasing different aspects of Plainfield culture, is easily accessible on any viewing device. As a multicultural community, we aim to create a thoughtful level of inclusivity. As a result, the website can be translated into thirty-two different languages with the click of a mouse. The website is also ADA compliant

"I invite you to get on a computer or other viewing device and take a look for yourself," said Mayor Mapp, "The new website was designed with the City of Plainfield at heart. It is important that every resident and visitor use our website without difficulty and obtain the information they require with ease. Speaking a different language or having an impairment shouldn't and won't impede anyone using the new City of Plainfield website."
