COVID – 19 CONTACT TRACING

When someone is diagnosed with COVID-19, it is essential that the people they had close contact with separate themselves from others and quarantine to help prevent further spread of the virus. Red Cliff Health has several contact tracers to interview every person with a confirmed case of COVID-19.

What to expect when you get a call from a contact tracer

All contact tracing team members have received training in and demonstrated understanding of the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA) and the Wisconsin Electronic Disease Surveillance System (WEDSS). WEDSS is the secure system that handles the reporting, investigation, and monitoring of your information.

- Our staff will always identify themselves as representatives of the Red Cliff Health Department.
- They will verify they are speaking to the right person and explain why they are calling.
- They won't identify the person you were in contact with or where it might have happened.
- Our contact tracers take you through isolation and quarantine recommendations, ask how you are feeling, and help you sign up for a free, symptom self-monitoring service.
