2014 Sugar Bush!!!!

It's that time of year again!! We are hoping for an excellent Sugar Bush season!! This year we will really be counting on parent, family and community involvement. The Sugar Bush season brings so much joy to the Red Cliff community and the ECC, so we look forward to spending much needed time outdoors: learning about the sugar maple, tapping trees, collecting sap, tromping through the deep snow, and spending some good ol' time around the fire as the beautiful sap boils. Please watch for flyers regarding field trips; it is too difficult to predict when the sap will begin to flow so we cannot pre-plan field trips with great notice (we apologize!!). Also watch for the equipment being dug out and set up in the parking lot of the ECC—please feel free to stop in and help, ask questions or just join us! We are so excited and the kids are excited too!!

ECC Attendance looking good!!!!!

The Red Cliff Early Childhood Center would like to say Miigwech for getting your child to school each and every day!! We realize it is a lot of work, especially for those parents that are driving their child to and from school. The bus continues to be an excellent source of transportation for Head Start children; we continue to recruit sub bus drivers and if you or someone you know is interested please let us know. We apologize for the inconsistency in bus pick up and drop off times but please be aware that times may differ from 10 minutes before or after the scheduled time depending on the number of children at school that day.

AS ALWAYS, please continue to communicate with your child's teacher. If we don't hear from you that is an unexcused (no call-no show) absence; a staff person will try to contact you. Head Start performance standards require an 85% attendance rate; this requires little to no absences from students. Due to the growing waiting lists and the risk of losing your spot, it is vital that your child is present at school or you have a unique arrangement with the school. Miigwech for all the dedication to your child's education and keep up the great work!!

March Socializations

Friday, March 14th.
Scrapbooking- we will provide supplies and lunch! We will also have a set up for the kids to make backgrounds for pages.

Sugarbush should start this month. The dates will vary. Please watch for fliers, as this will be our second socialization for the month.

SPRING BREAK IS COMING!!!!

Just a reminder the ECC will be closed March 24th - 28th for Spring break.

March Birthdays:
We have no birthdays this month, but Happy Birthday Dr. Seuss (March 2) !!!

A Look Ahead:
The ECC will be closed March 31st
Through April 4th (the week after spring break) for a mandatory Making It Work training.

KEEP CALM AND THINK SPRING!
Busy Busy Waabooz

Boozhoo from the Waabooz Room. We are having so much fun growing into big girls and boys. We really have to say a Chi-migwech for letting us know when your child is not going to be at school. We know a lot of "sicknesses" are going around so we love to know what is going on because we tend to worry about the little ones. So we just wanted to say "Great Job" with all that.

In the classroom we are saying more Ojibwe words to have fun with our friends. stay safe:
- Binosee Let's walk
- Binichigeedee Let's clean up
- Akwaandoo S/he climbs up
- Nisaaandoo S/he climbs down.

We are using many more but these are just a few. If you have any question on how to say them just ask...

You would be happy to see how much your babies already understand in ojibwemowin.

Remember we always welcome your input and any help you can provide our awesome group of children. Please let us know if you feel we need to change something you like something, or you would like more information on anything. Migwech Fred, Corky and Ashley Nigani is talking, sharing and showing his classmates a lot of new things.

Maycon is crawling around and playing with her friends at school.

Arely is walking along furniture and taking steps all by herself.

Izzy is playing with her friends at school and really getting around well.

Walter loves playing catch and all kinds of games he can take turns

Samara is walking all over the place and loves to talk and tell stories.

Zayla help clean up, talk, and sing songs.

Enyila really loves to play in large motor climbing and running around.
Onaabani-Giizia (Hard Crust on the Snow Moon)

Boozhoo Amik We are working on going to the bathroom and putting our own clothing on and off. So with us doing this we are going to need extra clothing. Yay and Sugar Bush should be coming upon us. So watch for flyers. We are going to be going outside a lot more so please have all winter gear for your little ones. More and More Ojibwe Mowin is being used in our classroom the things that we are going to lear in Ojibwe are.

Attention Parents:

Your son or daughter are working very hard at mastering self-help skills. They use the bathroom every day and are learning how to get dressed and undressed to go outside. They are also working at cleaning up and putting toys back when they are done with them. During meal times they are serving themselves with serving spoons and spreading peanut butter and jelly onto their bread. They are also working very hard at using their silverware when they are eating. Please work on these skills at home with your children. Remember you are their first teacher. We know that sometimes it is easy to just do it for our children, but letting them try and do it themselves will give them pride as they complete a task on their own!

We haven’t been able to get outside as much as we would like to but we have looking forward to Zigwan!

high hopes that this month we will be able to get out more than last month. So please make sure to send your child to school everyday with mittens, hats, snow pants, jacket and boots.

During Onaabani-giizis, we will be working on cutting, drawing, some more matching, our self-help skills, pouring our own milk. We will be doing a post office theme. So if you can, please take your child to the post office with you so they can see what a real one looks like.

Miigwech to all of you! You are all doing a fantastic job with your child! Keep up the good work. Remember if you have any questions or concerns, please feel free to come in and discuss it with us.

Look at what we are doing this month...

Last month we learned about pirates, treasures, ocean life and the kids really enjoyed dressing up, doing projects and finding treasures in the room.

This month we will be learning about Dinosaurs and do some projects for St. Patrick's Day.

We will include numbers, shapes, letters, matching, comparing, patterns, etc., with our everyday lessons too.

We are learning new Ojibwemowin in our classroom everyday. Thanks to Rosie and Reggie.

BREAKING NEWS..

CLOSED FOR SPRING BREAK:
March 24th-28th

Also CLOSED (due to training)
March 31st-April 4th

First day back for children will be APRIL 7th.

Parent Teacher Conferences are the week of the 17th. We will be setting up times that work for each family.

WHAT IS IT: Cognition is how we know, learn, and remember. It involves making sense of the world and developing the ability to acquire, organize, and use information in increasingly complex ways.

March should bring warm weather? Right?!

The weather will be warming up and we will be outside daily so make sure your child has his/her snow gear here. Miigwech!

Ma'iingan Room News

This month we are going to be learning about Dr. Suess and celebrating his birthday! The children will be working on different kinds of Dr. Suess projects, making our own snacks, and creating some St Patty's Day crafts and much more. We invite any family members that would like to be part of our day into the classroom and help out or just see what we do throughout the day. We will also continue to work on our self-help skills everyday, and using a lot of our energy to learn new things at school. We have been practicing sharing and waiting our turn which can be hard at times but the kids are really getting the idea to wait and share. We have to keep up on the high energy the kids have so we have been playing twice a week at the youth center. The children love being in a bigger space, the long cold winter has us all eager for spring, so just a reminder to pack warm clothes.

Miigwech,
Ms. Alicia &
Ms. Linda

Mashkodebizhiki Class

Boozhoo. We are happy to report that our field trip to the Northern Lights Rehabilitation Center was a huge success! Thank you to everyone who helped make it possible for us to purchase the flowers for Valentine’s Day. A huge thank you goes out to Ashland Floral for providing the flowers. We were able to brighten many faces and hearts. The kids did great and we plan to go back sometime this Spring.

For some children, kindergarten is right around the corner. There will be a list of transition activities coming home soon so you can make plans to attend as many as possible. The more times a child is exposed to something new the easier their transition will be.

We are also hoping to get a lot of help from home when it comes to the kids obtaining skills and knowledge that will assist them in kindergarten. Working on letter and number identification are two things that would help us greatly. Just pointing out letters in books, on signs, etc are a few ways you can incorporate learning without having to “plan it out”. Sometimes, being able to associate the letters with familiar things, like the beginning letter of a family member’s name, helps them retain the name of the letter.

From now until Spring break we will be learning about dinosaurs. We are introducing new words such as carnivores, herbivores, paleontologists, and other dino related terms daily. Ask your child what new things they learned and you might get surprised.

We are also talking about how to name our feelings and “calm” our bodies down when we feel strong feelings. Learning these skills helps the children label and understand their feelings as well as know how to calm down by themselves and possibly avoid negative behavior that commonly goes also with some of those strong feelings.

Don’t forget...

Parent/Teacher conferences are the week of March 17th. While it may seem silly to have conferences with preschool aged children it is really beneficial to the teachers and the parents to have the opportunity to touch base and discuss strategies for helping each child reach their individual goals.

Spring break begins on March 24th and we will return on March 31st.

Ms. J and Ms. Jenn
Gigaawaabaamin Nicole, Boozhoo Nicole!

The staff of the ECC was very sad to see Nicole Gurnoe accept another position after being with the ECC since 1999! Her last day was January 21. Nicky we wish you only the best and we hope you enjoy your new job!

Welcome to Nicole Boyd, our new Head Start Director! Nicole we are excited to work with you in your new role. We are confident that you will be highly successful in your new position!!!!

LACROSSE

TUESDAY MARCH 11 6PM

SIGURD OLSON ENVIRONMENTAL INSTITUTE

Join Northland alumni Damon Panek as he discusses the traditional game of lacrosse, one of the oldest team sports in North America. Damon will provide stories, teachings, and demonstrations of the game, as well as a comparison to the modern day version of the sport. Participants will be able to handle traditional and modern sticks and ask questions about this unique sport that sometimes spanned the length of several villages, was once used to settle tribal disputes, and trained warriors for hunting and combat.

Eleven federally-recognized Ojibwe tribes in Wisconsin, Michigan and Minnesota have reserved hunting, fishing and gathering rights in territories ceded to the United States through treaties. No state may take away tribal treaty rights, nor allow the destruction of treaty-protected resources such as land or water. So, how are treaty rights affected by human activities such as mining?

Influenza is a serious disease... Make sure your child is protected!

What is influenza?

Influenza (flu) is a serious disease caused by a virus. Influenza can make your child feel miserable. Fever, cough, shaking chills, body aches, and extreme weakness are common symptoms.

How do you catch influenza?

Your child can catch influenza from people who cough, sneeze, or even just talk around him or her. It is very contagious.

Is influenza serious?

Yes. Tragically, every year infants, children, teens, and adults die from influenza.

Influenza is dangerous for children as well as for people of all ages. Children younger than 2 years of age are at particularly high risk for hospitalization due to complications of influenza. Influenza is not only serious for your child, but it can be serious for others, such as babies and grandparents, if your child passes the virus on to them.

Is my child at risk?

Yes. Anyone can become seriously sick from influenza – even healthy children.

How can I protect my child from influenza?

Vaccination is the best way to protect your child from getting influenza.

Everyone 6 months of age and older should get vaccinated against influenza every year.

Vaccination not only protects people who get immunized, it also protects others who are around them.

Four Steps to a Monthly Spending Plan

If you really want to save money, make plans to spend it....

- Do you ever wish you hadn't spent money on that last pair of jeans? That coffee drink? That fast food meal?
- Does cash ever seem to leak out of your wallet?
- Do you have trouble paying bills at the end of the month?

A monthly spending plan can help. A spending plan is simply a guide you create to help you decide how to spend your money. Without a plan, many of us find ourselves spending without thinking, simply because we have cash on hand. Later, when we see something we really want, or when we need to pay all the bills, the money just isn't there.

When we make a plan for how we want to spend our money, we have a better chance of targeting it toward things that are really important to us. Do you want to enjoy a monthly night at the movies with the kids? Plan for it. Want to be able to pay for new tires when you need them? Plan for it. Want to have money for holiday gifts without relying on your tax refund to pay it all off? Plan for it.

Don't worry if your plan isn't perfect or if you don't get it right the first time. The more you try it, the better you'll be able to stop your spending leaks and spend money the way you really want.

Prepared by E. Lexau, UW—Extension Bayfield County Family Living Program
Before you begin....

- Use a sharp pencil with a good eraser. Or use an online spending plan, like the one found at Power Pay: www.powerpay.org. (See back page.)
- Gather your monthly bills, income statements and a calculator.
- Use monthly amounts for all items. If you don't know the monthly amount, estimate. If the amount varies from month to month, take an average from 3-12 months.

Start with income

- List all sources of take-home income for a typical month. List the net amount, after taxes and other withholdings are taken out. Then total all amounts.
- Include income from work, assistance programs, Foodshare, child support and any other funds that are available for you to spend or save.
- If an income amount varies from month to month (for example, if you are self-employed), list your average income from that source over a period of several months to a year.

List debts

- List a total amount for each debt and a target monthly payment for each debt.
- Add up all debts and the total monthly amount you plan to spend on paying down debt.
- List that monthly debt payment amount on the expense side of your worksheet.

List expenses

- List a monthly amount for all expenses you may pay over a year—even those expenses you don't pay every month.
- If you don't pay a particular expense each month, list the average monthly amount over the course of a year. (For example, if you only buy heating oil twice per year, take the total amount you spend over the whole year and divide by 12.)
- Put a * next to expenses you don't pay each month. This is a reminder to set aside this amount each month even if you don't spend it each month. That way, you'll have the funds when the bill comes due.
- Try to remember all expenses—even if they aren't listed here (school supplies? cigarettes? lunches out?). Everyone's situation is different. Cross out items you don't spend money on and replace them with expenses you do have.
- Include savings for short or long term items such as emergencies or a newer car. (If you have a lot of debt, consider paying down debt before targeting savings.)

Crunch the numbers

- Subtract the total monthly expenses from the total monthly income.
- If you have money left-over, consider applying it toward savings or debt.
- If there is a negative balance, you are spending more than you are bringing in.

What to do if your income doesn't cover expenses...

Monthly Spending

- Subtract
- Monthly Spending

Difference =/- $300
Don't give up if the numbers don't add up...

If you're like most people who create a spending plan for the first time (or even the second or third time), your plan may not balance at first. Get your sharp pencil and eraser and start adjusting the numbers. Ask yourself:

Can I increase income?
- Are there assistance programs you may be eligible for? Could you get paid for something you already do for free? For example, if you provide child care for free for a family member, perhaps you could provide paid care for another child. Brainstorm all options. Avoid any that could cost money.
- You may want to consider additional part-time work until you catch up. However, be cautious about taking on a new job if you already have a full-time job. This could add too much stress on you or your family.

Are debt payments dragging me down?
- If debt keeps you from living within your income, consider negotiating with lenders to reduce payments or even your balance.
- Concentrate on putting any extra money (such as gifts or a tax refund) toward paying down debt.
- The website www.powerpay.org offers a great resource for creating an effective debt repayment plan. It also offers a useful tool for creating your spending plan online instead of with a paper and pencil.

Could I decrease spending?
- This is where most people make the biggest difference.
- Look at each expense. Think carefully about whether you could reduce it. Can you take advantage of food distribution programs to reduce grocery costs? Can you look for ways to reduce housing costs, such as taking a roommate, turning down the furnace, eliminating TV or Internet fees. Can you reduce costs for transportation, entertainment, or gifts to others? Only you can decide what might work for you.
- Each time you decide to reduce an expense, erase the old number, insert the new number, and re-do the math. Watching your negative balance decrease can be a powerful motivator.

Track your spending.
- Every few days or once a week, check how much you're spending in each category. You can do this by writing down your spending in a notebook, by saving receipts or by tracking it online if you use a bank.
- Some people use envelopes to set aside money for expenses: one envelope for groceries, one for heating oil and other utilities, one for holiday gifts, etc. They put a monthly amount in their envelopes and commit to using it only for that purpose. They keep adding to the envelope so they have enough when the expense is ready to be paid.

Sometimes there just isn't enough money...
- If you've cut expenses wherever you can and still don't have enough to pay all bills, focus first on ways to keep the current problem from growing bigger. Then look for ways to improve the situation over time.
- Always pay bills that secure your housing and any bills that will incur stiff consequences or legal action if they aren't paid. Ask "What will happen if I don't pay this now? Could I lose our home? Will utilities get shut off? Will I incur big fines that increase debt and make my problem worse?"
- Then focus on negotiating with those you owe money to in order to see if you can reduce payments. Avoid using loans—especially those with a high APR—to pay monthly expenses. This usually just makes matters worse as growing debt makes it harder to pay future bills.

Be patient with yourself and keep trying! Building a spending plan that works for your household is a process—not a one-time event. Check your plan often to see what's working and what isn't and make adjustments. The more you work with it, the better it will work for you!

Types of Car Seats

Children require both rear- and forward-facing car seats before they are ready to use an adult seat belt. The following chart will help you decide which type of restraint system is best for your child. For more information on car seats, visit www.SaferCar.gov/theguideseat.

<tr>
<td>Type of Car Seat</td>
<td>Infant-Only Seat (Rear-Facing only): Designed for newborns and small babies, the Infant-Only seat is a small, portable seat that can only be used in a rear-facing position. Convertible Seat: As a child grows, this seat can change from a rear-facing to a forward-facing seat with a harness. Because it can be used with children of various sizes, it allows for children to stay in a rear-facing position longer. All-in-One Seat: This seat can change from a rear-facing seat to a forward-facing seat to a booster seat as a child grows. This type of seat is called by other names, including 3-in-1, so you should carefully read the manufacturer’s description at which phases of a child’s growth that the seat will fit.</td>
<td>Forward-Facing-Only Seat: Equipped with a harness and designed to be used forward-facing only. Convertible Seat: See description in the previous column. Combination Seat: As a child grows, this seat transitions from a forward-facing seat with a harness into a booster. All-in-One Seat: See description in the previous column.</td>
<td>Booster Seat with Back: This type of booster seat is designed to boost the child’s height so the seat belt fits properly. It also provides neck and head support and is ideal for vehicles that don’t have head rests or high seat backs. Backless Booster Seat: A backless booster seat is designed to boost the child’s height so the seat belt fits properly. It does not provide head and neck support. It is ideal for vehicles that have head rests. Combination Seat: See description in the previous column. All-in-One Seat: See description in the rear-facing car seat column.</td>
<td>Keep children in a booster seat for as long as possible until the adult seat belt fits properly. Children are generally ready to use a seat belt when they are tall enough to sit in the seat without slouching; 2) they can keep their back against the vehicle seat; 3) they can keep their knees naturally bent over the edge of the vehicle seat; and 4) they can keep their feet flat on the vehicle floor. To fit a seat belt properly, the lap belt must lie snugly across the upper thighs, not the stomach. The shoulder belt should lie snugly across the shoulder and chest, not across the neck or face. Keep your child in the back seat at least through age 12.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>What the Restraint Does</td>
<td>In a crash, a rear-facing car seat cradles and moves with the child. This helps reduce stress to the child’s fragile neck and spinal cord.</td>
<td>During a crash, the harness contacts the child at the strongest parts of the body to distribute the crash forces and to keep the child in the seat. The tether limits the child’s forward head movement.</td>
<td>A booster seat positions the seat belt so that it fits properly over the strongest parts of a child’s body. This can help reduce injury during a crash.</td>
<td>A seat belt restrains a grown child or adult in the event of a crash to help prevent injury. The seat belt is placed over the strongest parts of the body.</td>

20 Reasons Why Your Child Needs You to Be an Active Father

Fathers play a critical role in the development of their children. The latest research indicates that fathers who are actively involved in raising their children can make a positive and lasting difference in their lives. In contrast, this same research reveals a number of potentially negative outcomes for children whose fathers are not involved. Listed below are 20 reasons why your child needs you to be an active father. Being an active father:

1. Let your child know that you love her. Love involves more than saying the words, “I love you.” Fathers who love their children demonstrate their love by spending quality and quantity time together. Children who feel loved are more likely to develop a strong emotional bond with their father and a healthy self-esteem.

2. Provides your child with greater financial resources. Research clearly indicates that families with an active father are “better off” financially. This means that children with active fathers will be more likely to have access to resources that facilitate healthy development (e.g., food, clothing, shelter, quality medical care).

3. Provides your child with a positive role model. Children, regardless of gender, need positive male and female role models. Children tend to model behavior (positive and negative) that they witness on a consistent basis. Active fathers can promote positive behaviors by setting a proper example for their children.

4. Provides your child with emotional support. In addition to financial support, children also need emotional support from their parents. Active fathers listen and support their children when they experience joy, sadness, anger, fear, and frustration. Fathers who support their children emotionally tend to raise children who are more in-tune with the needs of others.

5. Enhances your child’s self-esteem. Self-esteem refers to how a person feels about himself. Children with high self-esteem tend to be happier and more confident than children with low self-esteem. Active fathers promote their children’s self-esteem by being fully involved in their lives and letting them know that they are highly valued.

6. Enhances your child’s intellectual development. Children who are raised with actively involved fathers tend to score higher on measures of verbal and mathematical ability, and also demonstrate greater problem-solving and social skills.

7. Provides your child with guidance and discipline. From infancy, children need proper guidance and discipline. Active fathers play an important role in teaching their children proper behavior by setting and enforcing healthy limits.

8. Gives your child someone to play with. One of the primary ways that fathers bond with their children is through play. According to researchers, there are qualitative differences in the ways fathers and mothers play with their children. Fathers tend to use a more physical style of play (e.g., wrestling) that offers a number of benefits to children, including enhanced cognitive ability.

9. Provides your child with someone to talk to when she has questions. Young children are full of questions. This natural curiosity helps them learn about their environment. Active fathers can be a valuable source of information for children who are seeking answers to life’s important questions.
10. Increases your child's chances for academic success. Children whose fathers are actively involved in their lives are more likely to achieve academic success than children whose fathers are not actively involved. These academic benefits appear to extend into adulthood.

11. Provides your child with an alternative perspective on life. Research indicates that men and women often differ in their parenting styles; however, one style is not necessarily better than the other. Instead, it can be healthy for children to be exposed to different perspectives on life, such as a father’s.

12. Lowers your child's chances for early sexual activity. Children with actively involved fathers are less likely to engage in early sexual activity, thus reducing their chances for teen pregnancy and sexually transmitted diseases.

13. Lowers your child's chances for school failure. Children with actively involved fathers are less likely to drop out of school than children with uninvolved fathers.

14. Lowers your child's chances for youth suicide. Children with actively involved fathers are less likely to commit suicide than children with uninvolved fathers.

15. Lowers your child's chances for juvenile delinquency. The benefits of having an active father throughout a child’s early years extend into the teen years as well. Children with active fathers are less likely to commit juvenile crimes than children with inactive fathers.

16. Lowers your child's chances for adult criminality. The chances that a child will commit crimes as an adult also diminish when he grows up with an actively involved father.

17. Provides your child with a sense of physical and emotional security. One of the major benefits that fathers can provide to their children by being actively involved is a sense of security (physical and emotional). By being actively involved in a child’s life, a father promotes a trusting relationship. The child does not have to worry about being abandoned.

18. Facilitates your child's moral development. Children need a moral compass to guide them when they face difficult moral choices. Fathers, like mothers, help children to develop a sense of right and wrong that serves as a foundation for establishing moral character.

19. Promotes a healthy gender identity in your child. Boys and girls benefit from having healthy role models from both sexes. Research points to the fact that mothers and fathers socialize their children in different ways. Fathers can help their children, especially boys, to develop a healthy sense of what it means to be a male.

20. Helps your child learn important life skills. Most of the essential life skills that children need to survive are learned within the home. Fathers have a unique opportunity to teach their children valuable skills that will enable them to grow up to be healthy and productive adults.

Fathers, your children need you! Make a commitment to be an active father. Your children will greatly benefit from your involvement in their lives.

PROTECT YOUR FAMILY.

If you smoke:
- Think seriously about quitting. Call 1-800-QUIT-NOW (1-800-784-8669) or a local support group for help.
- Never smoke in your home or car, or where children play.
- Wear a shirt or jacket that you can leave outside after you smoke.
- Wash your hands right away.
- Bathe, wash clothes and clean carpets and drapes often.

If you don't smoke:
- Don’t allow smoking in your home or car.
- Make sure childcare workers and babysitters are nonsmokers.
- If your relatives or friends smoke, ask them to wash their hands and put on smoke-free clothing before holding your baby.
- Try to keep your children out of the homes of smokers. Meet at a smoke-free place instead.

Have you ever walked into a room that smells like smoke but there is no smoker in sight? You’re smelling third-hand smoke – the toxins from tobacco that stay on surfaces like carpets and clothing and toys. Learn why it's harmful – especially to babies and young children – and how to protect them.

Tobacco smoke is full of toxins. But did you know you don’t have to smoke, or even be near a smoker, to be harmed by tobacco? The toxins from smoke can also be found on things you touch every day, long after a cigarette has been put out. It’s called third-hand smoke.

What is third-hand smoke?
✓ Third-hand smoke refers to the toxins from cigarette smoke that stick to soft surfaces.
✓ Have you ever stood near someone who wasn’t smoking but smelled like tobacco smoke? That smell is from third-hand smoke.

Where is third-hand smoke found?
✓ Third-hand smoke gets on clothes, hair, skin, carpets, baby blankets, furniture, toys, car seats, tiny bits of dust, and many other surfaces.
✓ Third-hand smoke can stay on unwashed surfaces for days, weeks, even months.

Is third-hand smoke harmful?
✓ Through third-hand smoke, people can be exposed to the same toxins found in tobacco smoke.

Third-hand smoke can harm babies.
✓ Babies have tiny lungs and breathe rapidly, so more tobacco toxins get into their bodies.
✓ Babies spend time on floors and other surfaces that can have toxins from smoke. They put their hands and mouths on these surfaces all day long.
✓ If you have third-hand smoke on your clothes and then cuddle your baby, your baby can breathe in those toxins.

Third-hand smoke can harm children.
✓ Low levels of toxins can build up to dangerous levels in the body. This can cause learning problems for children.

Third-hand smoke can hurt pets too.
✓ Toxins from smoke can land on the fur and feathers of your pets.
✓ When pets groom, they can get the tobacco toxins in their mouths.
