School Matters!

Did you know that two missed days a month adds up to being a half year behind by the time your child reaches 4th grade. And once a child falls behind they rarely catch up—every minute in school matters! Please make sure your child/children comes to school every day. We will contact your family if we don’t know where your child is each day they should be in school. We all must work together to build life-long learners. Migwech for sharing your children with us during this exceptionally special time in their lives!

Choose Health

It is that time of year again; the season of winter often brings forth bouts of sickness. The Red Cliff Early Childhood Center would like to provide families with a few tips:

- A well-known way to prevent the spreading of germs is washing hands and maintaining a clean environment
- Wear weather-appropriate clothing—protecting delicate immune systems from the elements
- Outside time! Winter is a season with a lack of sunlight—head outside and soak up some vitamin D when the opportunity arises
- A visit to the doctor for check-ups, vaccinations, and/or discussions about preventative measures can be quite beneficial

Classes Resume Jan 2nd
We can't believe it's already December, the year is going by quick. This month we will be bringing some snow inside, doing some painting, experiencing with new food and preparing for the holidays. Please bring in extra cloths, they have been enjoying touching and experiencing using a spoon. Thank you for bringing your children everyday :)

Reminder—No school December 24–January 1st.

Have a merry Christmas and a Happy new year! :)

Thank you, Ms. Kelsey & Ms. Teresa
Dear Parents,

November flew by and December now upon us. We had a lot of fun learning about goon (snow) and Dagwaagin (Fall). We learned about harvest, and being thankful. The kids enjoyed making turkeys and foods to put in our cornucopias.

We have a new teacher in our room. Her name is Ms. Gina LaGrew. She has been helping us do some crafts and we look forward to doing many more activities with her.

For December we will be working on Christmas crafts and activities. We are going to make more bird feeders so that we can watch the birds come to eat outside our window.

We will be going outside every day that the weather permits. Please send winter outdoor wear, hats, mittens, and boots.

Miss Maggie and Miss Gina

Boozhoo! It is that time of year again when the weather turns bitterly cold and the kids want to be outside all the time. Please remember to send appropriate gear to school so your child can get the most out of their outdoor experience. Snow pants, hats, warm jackets, winter boots and warm gloves are all necessary for your child to be comfortable outside. Also, remember to check on their extra clothes. There are many times that pants and socks get really wet from the snow and the kids are much more comfortable when they can change.

It is also that time of year when all kids can think about is what they are going to get for Christmas. They get so stuck on thinking about what they want they forget to think of what others may want or need. We are sure you may think they are too young to understand but you would be surprised at how giving and thoughtful kids this age naturally are. This year, instead of focusing on what the kids want given to them, we are going to focus on what they can do for others. Our days leading up to Christmas break will be full of doing and making things for people other than ourselves (of course there will be a few snacks for us to eat).

As with everything we do we welcome any thoughts or ideas on how to make this season of giving a great one. W

DON'T FORGET...the ECC Christmas party is on Friday December 21st School will be closed starting tomorrow. Dec 24th and will resume the 7th of January. We hope you enjoy the time with your child and remember that it isn’t how much money you spend or how many gifts are under the tree but how many special memories are made!!

Have a very Merry Christmas

Sibling Rivalry

Tips to Help Siblings Get Along

- Encourage siblings to express their feelings about one another with words. “I feel sad when you take my toy without asking.”
- Teach children how to get attention from their siblings in a positive way, such as asking to play together. “I’m building a block tower. Do you want to help?”
- Focus on each child’s unique strengths. The behaviors you notice and talk about are often the behaviors children learn to repeat.
- Don’t take sides. Try to stay neutral when children are having a conflict.
- Create a space where children can have quiet time and space if they need it. Teach all family members to respect these “quiet time” spaces.
- Try to spend alone time with each child every day. Sometimes children start a fight to seek attention from adults. Just 15 to 20 minutes of one-to-one attention with a child per day can decrease whining and fighting.

Benefits of Sibling Rivalry

Conflict is natural in close relationships like families; and sibling rivalry is nearly unavoidable. Learning how to resolve conflict with siblings provides a great opportunity for children to practice interpersonal skills, which will continue to benefit them in future relationships.
Celebrate the Individual

Sibling rivalry can start when adults make comparisons between children ("Why can’t you be quiet like your sister?"). Comparing children is like comparing apples to oranges—you can’t! Instead, recognize, accept, and enjoy children’s distinct characteristics and achievements. Let each child know that they are special in their own way.

When Should Adults Help?

- Step in when children cannot solve the conflict on their own.
- You should stop dangerous fights immediately to protect children from getting hurt physically and emotionally. When children have cooled down, talk about what happened and emphasize that violence is not allowed in any circumstances.
- Come up with some ground rules with your children. Make sure that ground rules contain clear and consistent consequences if children break the rules. This can lead to prevention of many arguments.
- Ground rules might include:
  ◊ No hurting (hitting, kicking, pinching etc…) is ever allowed.
  ◊ When one child is not having fun, rough-housing must be stopped.
  ◊ If you fight over a toy, the toy goes into time-out.

Resolving Conflicts

Give children opportunities to try working out their own conflicts, but keep in mind that younger children might need some help from you on problem-solving and conflict resolution skills. Once everyone has cooled down, you might ask each child to think of several ways to solve the problem. For example, instead of telling the child to “Ask nicely for the toy,” ask, “What can you do or say so your brother will let you play with his truck?” Sometimes that’s all a parent needs to ask. For other conflicts, you may need to help children think through how their actions made their siblings feel and identify different actions that would make everyone feel better. “How does your brother feel when you grab toys?” “Can you think of something different to do so your brother won’t feel mad?” This problem-solving approach can benefit children in the long term because children are more likely to carry out their own ideas and develop problem-solving skills.

Planning for Tax Time

As you probably know, almost everyone with an income needs to file a tax return. You may be dreading tax time because you’re afraid that you owe money to the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) or the state. But, it’s just as likely that you’ll be getting a refund!

One benefit of filing taxes is that you may get extra money back through tax credits, above and beyond what was withheld from your paycheck. Another benefit is that some tax credits can lower the income taxes you have to pay and might even give cash refunds to families whose incomes are too low to owe taxes.

As you get ready to file your taxes, here are a couple of things to keep in mind:

- You must file 1040 or 1040A federal forms, and WI 1 or 1A state forms to get the credits. Some families miss out on the credits because they file the wrong forms like the federal 1040EZ or the state WI-Z.
- Say “no” to Refund Anticipation Checks (RAC). RACs don’t get you your money any sooner and the rates and fees really add up. The result is a lot of money out of your pocket!

Free Ways to File Taxes

You can save money by doing taxes on your own instead of paying a tax preparer. Filing taxes is easier than in the past because of these programs:

- Federal Returns – At www.irs.gov, you can use brand-name software or free fillable forms to file online, or you can print the forms you need to file.
- State Returns – You can also file your Wisconsin taxes online or by mail with forms from www.dor.state.wi.us (or your local library). Be sure to do your federal taxes first since you’ll need some of that information for your state tax return.
- Volunteer Income Tax Assistance (VITA) – Low-income individuals and families are eligible for free tax preparation by high quality, trained volunteers. VITA sites are generally located at community centers, libraries, schools, shopping malls and other locations across the state. To find the location closest to you, call 1-800-906-9887 or go to www.irs.gov and search for VITA.
- Depending on your household income, you can file your federal AND state taxes together at www.myfreetaxes.com, a website sponsored by United Way and several national companies. The Q&A format makes filing easy!
File Early if You Owe Taxes

- Many people tend to put off things they don't want to do, but if you owe income taxes, they need to be paid by April 15th.
- If you are not able to pay the full amount, there are short term extensions and monthly payment plans available.

Do you qualify for major tax credits?

When you file your taxes, if you qualify for tax credits, you'll need to fill out a few extra forms. These tax credits include:

- The Earned Income Credit (IRS Schedule EIC) is a tax benefit for workers who earn low or moderate incomes. Qualifying persons who file federal and state tax returns get back some or all of the income tax withheld from their pay during the year. You might even get more money back than you paid in taxes.

- The Homestead Credit (WI Schedule H) is a tax benefit for renters and homeowners with low or moderate incomes. Qualifying persons who file state returns get back some or all of their state taxes withheld during the year.

To learn more about tax credits, plus other resources, you can go to fyi.uwex.edu/wisconsinconnections.

Making the Most of Your Refund

- Make a wish list—It can get you thinking about how to spend your refund. Write down the ways you want to spend your refund and how much each will cost. You might include needed things and fun things too.
- Go back and circle items on the list you need to pay for first. If it adds up to too much money, cross off circled items one by one until you stay within your refund.

How about saving some of your refund?

Tax refunds only come once a year and it's always nice to have some emergency money during the rest of the year.

The IRS offers an automatic savings option. Fill out IRS Form 8888 to split your refund between savings and spending. For example, if you get back $1,000, you can put $750 into your checking account to pay bills and put $250 into your savings account. You can even use some of your refund to buy savings bonds.

If you split your Federal tax refund and save at least $50 using IRS Form 8888, you might be able to win cash prizes. Find out if this annual contest is open to you at: www.saveyourrefund.com

To $um It Up:

$ Filing taxes can be a great time to make the most of your money
$ Don't miss out on tax credits to get more money by filling out the correct forms
$ Make a wishlist to help decide how to spend your refund
$ A tax refund could be the perfect time to jumpstart your financial goals - start or add to your savings account for emergencies, retirement, or your child's college fund - whatever is most important to you!

Hooray, hooray! It’s dentist day! I put on my shoes and zip up my coat. My mom sings a song as we drive along:

Every day we all must brush,
   Even when we’re in a rush. ♫
Eating healthy all year long,
Helps keep our teeth super strong.
   Count them, Clean them,
   Make them shine;
The dentist is a friend of mine!

At the dentist’s office, I sit on Mom’s or Dad’s lap. Then Dr. Lisa comes in.

She checked my gums when I was just a baby. Now she counts my teeth.

The chair goes up and she shines a light into my mouth to help her see if my teeth are healthy.

She cleans my teeth with a tool that spins and buzzes. Oops! She gets my chin wet. Now my smile is all sparkly. Thank you, Dr. Lisa. I promise to brush two times a day for two minutes. See you next time!

TINY SMILES
BABY TEETH ARE IMPORTANT

BIRTH to 1ST TOOTH (around 6 months)
Your baby's first smile appears even before you see the first tooth—it's all about the gums at this stage.

BEST SMILE TIP!
Gently wipe baby's gums with a clean, damp, soft washcloth or gauze after each feeding. This removes bacteria and bits of food.

HEALTHY HABITS
You can pass cavity-causing germs to your baby, so don't put their pacifier in your mouth to clean it. And don't share feeding spoons. To clean pacifiers, rinse them with water. Never dip pacifiers in sugar, honey, or other foods.

1ST TOOTH to 3 YEARS OLD
Starting around 6 months and up until about 12 to 14 months, your baby's first tooth will push through the gums.

BEST SMILE TIP!
Once your child's teeth begin to show, brush them two times a day (morning and night). Use a baby toothbrush and a smear of fluoride toothpaste the size of a grain of rice. Start cleaning between teeth daily as soon as your child has two teeth that touch.

HEALTHY HABITS
Take your child to the dentist for a first checkup after the first tooth appears or by the time your child turns 1. Do not let your child sip drinks with sugar all day.

3 to 5 YEARS OLD
By age 3, your child will have about 20 teeth. These baby teeth are important. They help your child eat, speak, and smile. They also hold space for permanent teeth.

BEST SMILE TIP!
Brush your child's teeth for two minutes, two times a day. Use a pea-size amount of fluoride toothpaste on a child's toothbrush. Assist with brushing until your child can spit out the toothpaste instead of swallowing it, usually around age 6. Keep cleaning between their teeth daily, for example, with dental floss.

HEALTHY HABITS
Encourage your child to eat fruits, vegetables, and foods that are low in sugar. Limit snacks, candy, juice, soft drinks, and sticky treats. And remember, water with fluoride is the best drink for your child's teeth.

Watch and Brush at 2min2x.org
Help your child brush for two minutes, two times a day by playing a song or a two-minute video while you brush.
Baby teeth are important. They help your child chew, speak, and smile. They also help permanent teeth grow in the correct position. Did you know that children can get cavities as soon as their teeth first appear? Nearly one in four children ages 2–5 has cavities in their baby teeth. Cavities can hurt. Cavities also can cause children to have problems eating, speaking, learning, playing, and sleeping. Children learn healthy habits from their parents and caregivers. Read below to find out how you can help prevent cavities and promote healthy habits.

HELP PREVENT CAVITIES

DURING PREGNANCY
- Children’s teeth begin to develop between the third and sixth months of pregnancy. To help baby teeth develop correctly, be sure to get plenty of nutrients and eat a balanced diet. For tips on how to eat a balanced diet, visit choosemyplate.gov.
- It is important to go to the dentist during pregnancy. Also, remember to brush your teeth two times a day for two minutes, clean between teeth, and drink water with fluoride to help keep your own teeth and gums healthy and strong.

BIRTH TO 1ST TOOTH (around 6 months)
- Gently wipe baby’s gums with a clean, damp, soft washcloth or gauze after each feeding.
- Breastfeed your baby for at least the first six months of life, if possible. To help prevent tooth decay, fill your baby’s bottle only with formula or milk. Finish bottle feedings before putting your baby to bed.
- You can pass cavity-causing germs to your child, so don’t put your baby’s pacifier in your mouth to clean it. And don’t share feeding spoons. Rinse pacifiers with water to clean them.
- Don’t dip pacifiers in sugar, honey, or other foods.

1ST TOOTH TO 3 YEARS OLD
- Take your child to the dentist for a first checkup after the first tooth appears or by the time your child turns 1.
- Brush your child’s teeth two times a day (morning and night). Use a baby toothbrush and a smear of fluoride toothpaste the size of a grain of rice. Start cleaning between teeth daily as soon as your child has two teeth that touch.
- Protect your child’s teeth with fluoride. Talk to your dentist or pediatrician about your child’s fluoride needs.
- Sippy cups should be used only until around your child’s first birthday. Do not let your child sip drinks with sugar all day.

3 TO 5 YEARS OLD
- Brush your child’s teeth for two minutes, two times a day. Use a pea-size amount of fluoride toothpaste and a small, soft toothbrush. Take turns—brush your child’s teeth one time and then have them do it the next time. Supervise brushing until your child can spit out the toothpaste instead of swallowing it, around age 6.
- Clean between their teeth daily—for example, with dental floss.
- Encourage your child to eat fruits, vegetables, and foods that are low in sugar and to drink fluoridated water. Limit snacks, candy, juice, soft drinks, and sticky treats.
- Ask your child’s dentist or doctor about putting fluoride varnish on your child’s teeth to prevent cavities.

Visit MouthHealthy.org for more tips from the American Dental Association to help your child have their best smile!

No child can be truly healthy if he or she has poor oral health..

Try a seasonal activity with your family. Go ice skating or jump start your bucket list for the year.

Walking is a great way to be active. Try to incorporate more walking into your activities.

HAPPY HOLIDAYS!
Family wellness challenges

How can you motivate your child to live a healthy lifestyle? Turn nutritious eating, exercising, and getting enough sleep into fun family challenges. Use these ideas to get started.

Challenge #1: Fruit and veggie bingo

Have each person create a bingo card with five rows and five columns. In each square, write or draw produce (orange, green beans, sweet potato). Then, swap cards and cross out each one you eat this week (a strawberry smoothie counts). Everyone who gets five in a row wins.

Tip: Involve relatives you'll visit with during the holidays.

Challenge #2: Fit weekends

Brainstorm fitness-related activities to enjoy together. Some ideas: hold a dance-off, play balloon volleyball, have a snowball fight, visit a recreation center. Ask your youngster to write one on your calendar every weekend. As you complete each activity, he can color in that day's calendar square.

Challenge #3: Sleep tracking

Getting enough sleep gives your child energy to run and play. Let him make a "sleep chart" with a column for each family member. For one week, write down the time you turn out the lights and the time you wake up. Draw a star in your column for each night you get the recommended amount of sleep (kids need 9–11 hours, adults need 7–9).

Save on fitness equipment

Inspire your youngster to stay fit by keeping an assortment of sports and exercise gear handy. Consider these suggestions to help her stock up on a budget:

- Ask family and friends if they have equipment they no longer use. Perhaps your brother can pass along a softball mitt his daughter has outgrown. A friend may offer an old tennis racket.
- Search flea markets, thrift shops, and online sales. For just a few dollars, you might find a gently used balance ball or yoga mat (disinfect before use). Or you could buy a jump rope, a can of tennis balls, or a Frisbee for less than a dollar.

Note: Always make sure used gear is in good condition.
Kitchen safety for kids

Confidence in the kitchen can set your youngster up for a lifetime of healthy eating. Before the two of you cook together, share these basic safety rules.

Note: Always supervise your child in the kitchen.

Practice cleanliness. Explain that your youngster should avoid spreading germs by washing her hands in warm, soapy water before and after touching food. Point out that it’s also important to wipe counters and wash cutting boards that come in contact with uncooked meat or eggs.

Avoid burns. Show your child how to turn pot handles toward the back of the stove to avoid accidental bumps. Also, teach her to never touch anything hot (pans, plates) with bare hands. She could practice using potholders by carrying dishes that aren’t hot.

Use knives carefully. Demonstrate the “two-hand” technique: One hand grips the knife firmly while the other holds the food in a “claw” position (fingers curled under). Tip: Have your youngster start with a plastic or butter knife and soft foods like bananas or bread.

Q & A

Healthier beverage choices

Q: With holiday parties coming up, how can I help my daughter steer clear of soda and choose healthier drinks?

A: One easy solution for parties? Offer to supply beverages! Drop off a gallon or two of fat-free milk—it’s perfect for dunking holiday cookies. Or let your daughter help you make a bowl of healthy punch to share. She could choose a flavor of sparkling water and decide what kind of fruit to mix in.

Before you go to a party, talk to your daughter about making good choices. Keep in mind that banning treats completely may make them more tempting to her. For example, suggest that she drink just one glass of chocolate milk or apple juice, then switch to water or regular fat-free milk for the rest of the party.

Better-for-you appetizers

Chips, mozzarella sticks, and deviled eggs are popular among kids—and they can actually be nutritious. Try these recipes.

Tortilla chips
Cut 6 small corn tortillas into 6 wedges each. Combine 3 tbsp. lime juice, 1 tbsp. olive oil, and ½ tsp. salt. Arrange wedges in a single layer on a baking sheet, and brush both sides with the mixture. Bake at 350°F for 15 minutes, flipping once.

Baked cheese sticks
Combine ½ cup whole-grain breadcrumbs with 1 tsp. each onion powder, garlic powder, and salt. In a separate bowl, beat 1 egg. One at a time, dunk 12 part-skim mozzarella cheese sticks into the egg, then coat with the breadcrumb mixture. Bake at 425°F for 10–15 minutes.

Vegetable deviled eggs
Peel 6 hard-boiled eggs, and cut in half. Scoop the yolks into a bowl, and add 3 tbsp. fat-free Greek yogurt and ½ tbsp. Dijon mustard. Then, stir in 2 tbsp. each diced cucumber and tomato. Divide the mixture among the egg whites.
Focusing on Togetherness During the Holidays

Tips from Nefertiti B. Poyner, Ed.D.
By Joselyn Paine, Devereux Communications Specialist

For many families, the holidays are spent dashing around trying to find those perfect presents, slaving over a hot stove cooking up family feasts and scurrying from one festivity to another.

As the whirlwind weeks go by and stress levels soar, it might be time to slow down and remember what is important: spending time with the ones you love.

Devereux Center for Resilient Children (DCRC) Early Childhood Specialist and National Trainer Nefertiti B. Poyner, Ed.D., offers tips for families to focus on togetherness during the holiday season.

Tip #1: Enjoy the simple things

DCRC research shows it is often the most ordinary things that have the most extraordinary power. Whether it is having your child help you prepare a meal, sitting down as a family and playing a board game or having an older child tell a story to a younger child, life is full of magical moments that make lasting impressions.

"It doesn’t matter if the presents aren’t perfectly wrapped or the turkey is a tad overcooked," explained Poyner. "What matters is you slow things down and focus on enjoying the everyday moments before they’re gone."

Tip #2: Unplug from electronics

It can be hard to connect with the people around us during the holidays when we are constantly glued to our smartphones, tablets and computers. Parents wanting to set a good example cannot expect their children to disconnect from their devices if they are not willing to unplug, as well. Setting aside time each day to power down your phone, put it in a drawer and focus on family activities can have a huge impact on family engagement and connection.

"We’re losing the simple art of eye contact with each other because we’re on our cellphones all the time," said Poyner. "In order to reconnect, we need to be willing to put down our electronic devices and spend more time physically interacting with our loved ones."

Tip #3: Respect others

While the holidays are a time when family and friends come together, they are also a time when joyful gatherings can quickly turn into heated exchanges. To avoid any family squabbles, skip discussions around the dinner table that focus on religion, politics or any other controversial topics. If someone tries to start a spat, remember — everyone is entitled to their opinion.

"For me to respect someone and be empathetic toward them, doesn’t mean I have to agree with what they’re saying — and that’s OK," Poyner said. "I like to seek agreement, but sometimes agreeing to disagree is agreement enough."

Tip #4: Lend a helping hand

Helping others is not only a benefit to them, but to you, as well. Offering support as a family — whether it is by going caroling at a nursing home, delivering cookies to employees at a fire station or leaving a card in your mailbox for the mail carrier — can bring about feelings of self-worth, happiness and even optimism.

"Giving back to others and modeling that behavior for your children can really have a profound impact," Poyner said. "Even the smallest efforts — showing someone else that you see them and support them — can have big rewards."

Tip #5: Cultivate moments of mindfulness

If you find yourself losing focus of what the holidays are all about, utilize mindfulness techniques such as deep-breathing to relax and regroup. Feel free to involve your children, if you notice they need to unwind as well.

"Step outside and take a few, deep breaths," Poyner explained. "Begin by inhaling the air slowly and deeply through your nose or mouth. Count to three, and then exhale through your lips. This can help you return to your state of calm, so hopefully, you can get back to focusing on what’s important."
Drawing the Story #2

Ask an adult to read this story aloud to you.
Then draw 3 pictures from the story in the correct order.

Jacob got up in the morning. He looked outside his window and everything was white.

It snowed! Jacob put on his jacket, gloves, and hat and ran out to play with his friends. They built a giant snowman. Jacob found two tree branches to make the snowman’s arms. Later, they split up into two groups and had a snowball fight. When Jacob got tired, he went home and drank a cup of hot chocolate to warm up.
Snow Paint

What You Need:
- Paper
- Paintbrush
- Shaving Cream
- Glue
- Bowl

What You Do:
- Pour an equal amount of glue and shaving cream into a bowl and mix together until the mixture is thick. Now you have snow paint!
- Let your child create a picture on the paper using the paintbrush and snow paint.
- Ask your child questions about snow. In what environments does it snow? What do you think snow feels like? Do you think snow is hot or cold? What is his favorite season and why?
- When your child is done with his painting, ask him to describe what he made. Did he make snowflakes, a snowman, or something else?
- Let the paint dry. Then your child will be able to enjoy his snow painting.

You can also use this paint for other occasions. For example, you can add red or pink to make a Valentine’s Day painting, or green for a St. Patrick’s Day painting.
Duck, Duck, Goose Game

The object of this game is to walk in a circle, tapping on each player’s head until one is finally chosen and they must chase the picker to avoid becoming the next picker.

How To Play:
A group of players sit in a circle, facing inward, while another player, who is “it”, walks around tapping or pointing to each player in turn, calling each a “duck” until finally calling one a “goose”.

The “goose” then rises and tries to tag the “it”, while the “it” tries to return to and sit where the “goose” had been sitting before.

If “it” succeeds, the “goose” becomes the “it” and the process begins again.

If the “goose” tags the “it”, the “goose” may return to their previous spot and the original “it” restarts the process.
Help Ron get ready for a winter afternoon playing in the snow. Draw a circle around all the things he should wear and bring.
Make Your Own Snow Globe
This homemade snow globe craft is fun for kids who are excited about winter!

What You Need:
- A clean jar with a water-tight lid (test it by filling it with water and turning it upside down)
- Waterproof figurine that fits inside the jar (legos work!)
- Waterproof glue (super glue, hot glue)
- Glitter
- Glycerin-makes the glitter float(optional and found at drug stores)
- Water

Instructions:
1. Remove the lid from the jar and set the jar aside
2. Place the lid upside down on a hard surface and help your child glue the figurine(s) to the bottom of the lid
3. Let the glue dry completely
4. Have your child add a few dashes of glitter to the jar, along with a few drops of glycerin
5. Help your child fill the jar almost to the top with water
6. Screw the lid on tight and turn the jar upright
7. Have your child shake gently and watch the glitter float around!
Color Key
1 = Blue
2 = Black
3 = Red
4 = Green
5 = Orange
6 = Brown
7 = White
Build a Pine Cone Bird Feeder

What You Need:
- Bird Seed
- Flat Baking Tray
- Large Pine Cone (or papertowel roll)
- Smooth Peanut Butter
- Table Knife
- Something to cover the table (this activity gets messy!)
- String

1. Cover the table with newspaper or plastic.
2. Pour some bird seed into your baking tray
3. Help your child spread the peanut butter on the pine cone or papertowel roll
4. Roll the pinecone (papertowel roll) in the bird seed
5. Tie a piece of string (at least a foot long) to the top of the pine cone (papertowel roll)

Birds usually take a few days to locate new food.
Keep a bird book handy. Can you and your child identify what kinds of birds are visiting the bird feeder?

When the pine cone is pecked clean, make another!

Promoting Literacy across America

Message to Educators

As someone who works with children, you know how a tiny smile can brighten your day. Yet parents may not always make the connection between oral health, overall health, and well-being. Untreated tooth decay can lead to pain and infections, which can affect a child’s ability to speak, eat, play, and learn. Fortunately, early intervention and proactive education can help—tooth decay is preventable.

The American Dental Association Foundation has collaborated with Scholastic to provide these free resources to raise awareness about the oral health needs of children ages 0 (birth) to 5. With your help, we can reinforce positive health messages to help parents and caregivers give their children bright smiles and healthy futures! Thank you for your efforts in raising awareness about children’s oral health and protecting those tiny smiles.

According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, tooth decay (cavities) is one of the most common chronic health conditions of children in the United States. A National Health and Nutrition Examination Survey found that nearly 23% of children ages 2-5 had cavities.

HOW TO USE THESE MATERIALS

HANG THE POSTER (back of this guide) The poster features tips for cleaning children’s gums and teeth. Hang it in an area with a lot of parent or caregiver traffic.

HAND OUT THE ACTIVITY SHEETS (back panels of poster) Make copies and distribute these sheets to reinforce positive oral health messages. You might complete the activity sheets with the children, or send them home with the resource sheet for families.

SHARE THE TEAR-PAD INFORMATIONAL SHEETS Distribute the tear-pad sheets to parents and caregivers.

COMMUNICATE WITH PARENTS & CAREGIVERS Share information you may receive about available oral health resources such as local dentists, dental clinics, dental schools, community health centers, and other community resources for dental checkups. And let parents know if their children mention any issues with their teeth. For information on local dentists, visit FindADentist.ADA.org.

For additional resources, including Spanish translations of the resources and activities, visit scholastic.com/givemysmile.

TELL US WHAT YOU THINK! After using the materials, complete our online survey for a chance to win one of 50 sets of books worth $100. For the survey and Official Rules, educators who work with children ages 0 to 5 (or with the parents or caregivers of those children) should visit scholastic.com/givemysmile/survey.

Deadline: 4/1/19. NO PURCHASE NECESSARY.
HEALTHY DENTAL HABITS

Developing good dental health habits with your child early on and practicing them daily will help your child’s smile and overall health. Baby teeth are not just placeholders. They are important and need to be protected. Take a look at the tips below to help your child have healthy teeth.

CHOOSE HEALTHY DRINKS
Breastfeed your baby until at least six months of age if possible. Then fill your baby’s bottle with formula, milk, or water. Don’t put sugary drinks or juice in your child’s bottle.

FINISH BOTTLES BEFORE BED
Finish bottle feedings before putting your baby down to sleep. Wipe baby’s gums after each feeding.

DO NOT PASS ALONG GERMS
Do not put pacifiers or feeding spoons in your mouth—you can pass cavity-causing germs to your child. Rinse pacifiers with water to clean them.

SEE THE DENTIST
Take your child to the dentist for a first checkup after the first tooth appears or by the time your child turns 1.

CLEANING GUMS AND TEETH STARTS AT BIRTH

► BIRTH TO 1ST TOOTH Gently wipe baby’s gums with a clean, damp, soft washcloth or gauze after each feeding.

► 1ST TOOTH TO 3 YEARS OLD Brush your child’s teeth two times a day (morning and night). Use a baby toothbrush and a smear of fluoride toothpaste the size of a grain of rice.

► 3 TO 5 YEARS OLD Brush your child’s teeth for two minutes, two times a day. Use a pea-size amount of fluoride toothpaste on a child’s toothbrush. Make it a fun activity—sing a silly song or make a game out of it using a timer.

► Supervise brushing until your child can spit out the toothpaste instead of swallowing it, around age 6.

Contact your child’s dentist or pediatrician if you have questions about your child’s dental health or teething, and ask about fluoride varnish for your child’s teeth.
