Red Cliff Breaks Ground On New Childcare Center

June 19, 2020 – The Red Cliff
Band of Lake Superior Chippewa has broken ground on its new childcare center. The center will offer a vital childcare option for Red Cliff and surrounding area residents. Construction is expected to finish October 1, 2020, with plans for operation to begin the first week of October.

"Increased childcare and educational opportunities were major points of community feedback from our last tribal census, so the Tribe worked with LCO Ojibwe College to bring back the LCOOC outreach and have put a lot of efforts into this new childcare center," said Red Cliff Vice-Chairman Nathan Gordon. "The Tribe is very happy to be breaking down another barrier for the community, and a team effort was key to making this happen."

The new childcare center will be open to ages 0-7 and will operate under the Tribe's Child Care Program in conjunction with the Red Cliff Early Childhood Center, which houses primarily Early Head Start and Head Start programs for ages 0-5.

"While choosing a daycare may be a heart-pounding option for many parents, there is clear evidence that children will benefit over the long term and now more parents in the community will have access to a viable care option," said Child Care Coordinator Stephanie Schluneger. "In addition to the proven benefits for children, this new center will help provide working families with better job stability and overall economic security."

The Early Childhood Center currently offers 82 slots for center-based programming, and any children aged 0-3 outside of those 82 slots are accepted into a home-based program. The new childcare facility will create 40 childcare-specific slots for those families in need. Both the Early Childhood Center and the new childcare facility will follow a similar model of lesson planning and child development tracking guidelines.

"It has been very rewarding to watch this project develop and to provide childcare as such an important service in this area," said Jennifer Leask, ECC Administrator. "We are excited that the ECC and new childcare center will be working together, and it is important for the center to be more than just a day care. It will be a learning environment full of educational opportunities with a strong focus on social-emotional development."

The Red Cliff Child Care Program is actively searching for qualified staff to work at the new center and plans to offer additional on-the-job mentorship training through the Head Start and Early Head Start programs.

"Our main priority is to employ individuals who have a true passion and love for children and teaching," said Leask. "We want to find people who are willing to join our childcare family, and we are waiting with open arms to welcome the new childcare staff."

The development of the new childcare center has truly been a community-driven project after frequent calls for expanded childcare options, led by a team effort from the Childcare Task Force.

"There are so many parents, single parents, and grandparents that need daycare services to hold down a job and to provide for their families," said Myrtle Gordon, Childcare Task Force member. "This new childcare center will be a tremendous help to our community and surrounding areas, and I'd like to thank everyone who helped make this happen."

The construction and operation of this new childcare center was made possible after the Tribe secured various funding, including $601,000 through the Red Cliff Child Care Development Fund allocation from the Administration for Children and Families. The Red Cliff CARES Act Department of Treasury is covering $109,000 with those funds allocated toward the new childcare center by the Tribal Council.

"For many years, lack of childcare has been a huge obstacle for many of our community members and has hindered their ability to work, go to college, or pursue other life goals," said Chairman Rick Peterson. "This facility will be a huge help in overcoming many of those obstacles, and on behalf of the Tribal Council I want to thank our funding sources, our many tribal employees, and community members who helped make this long needed and overdue facility a reality."

Red Cliff will be working with Centerville Homes as the general contractor and Dynamic Homes as the modular manufacturer.

"Red Cliff is knocking down another barrier for our families to be able to be employed, go to school and have their children well taken care of," said Planning Administrator Nicole Boyd. "I'm grateful to be a part of the team that is making the new childcare center a reality."

The Red Cliff Child Care Program plans to begin accepting child applications in August, with care services beginning in early October. Further information regarding child applications will be provided in the coming weeks.

For regular updates on the new childcare center, email Child Care Director Stephanie Schluneger at stephanie.schluneger@redcliff-nsn.gov to be added to an email blast list.

Miigwech From Food Distribution

This year has been filled with many firsts due to COVID-19, and as things remain uncertain, we strive to make the Summer Food Program and the Food Distribution Program run as smoothly as possible for both our clients and for our staff.

One of our unexpected changes that occurred was the early start to the Summer Food Program, which began on March 16, 2020 instead of the original planned date of June 15, 2020. We have made roughly 25,000 lunches and snacks so far. Ho-Wah! We will continue lunches through August 31st.

We couldn't have made this possible without the dedication and assistance of our volunteer/essential co-workers.

Chi-Miigwech to the following:

Carol Basina, Darren Soulier, Wade Hansen Jr., Michael Bonney and Mercie Gordon-The Food Distribution and Summer Food Program Staff.

Paige Moilanen, Donald Gordon III, Mark Defoe and Darrell Murphy from the Boys & Girls Club.

Lorinda Duffy, Sarah Gordon, Mikayla Topping, Donald Gordon Jr. from The Early Childhood Center.

Derek Gordon, CHR from the Red Cliff Community Health Center.

Christopher Boyd from the Domestic Violence Program.

Martin Babineau from the Brighter Future Initiative.

It takes a village to raise a child and these people have shown that to be true. What an awesome team!

Contact the Food Distribution Program if you have any questions at 715-779-3740.

Miigwech,

Vincent "Butch" Bresette, Food Distribution Director

NEWS RELEASE

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE: 06/19/2020

No Bayfield Apple Festival in 2020

BAYFIELD, WI (June 19, 2020): The 59th Annual Bayfield Apple Festival will not take place in 2020. The Bayfield Chamber & Visitor Bureau and it's Board of Directors is officially postponing the event.

"After nearly 60 years, Apple Festival has become a strong part of the 'Bayfield experience.' Having a year without Bayfield Apple Festival is going to be devastating to many local businesses and to our orchards but the decision was made for the safety of our community," says David Eades, Executive Director of the Bayfield Chamber & Visitor Bureau. "Bayfield is resilient and I have no doubt that we will all work together to make 2021 the best Apple Festival ever."

On the behalf of the entire community this was a difficult decision, but the safety of Bayfield area residents, it's employees, and visitors is the priority during the COVID-19 health crisis. Bayfield Apple Festival brings in up to 50,000 people in just three days. Bayfield's population is 487. Bayfield County does not have an ICU, and houses only 3 ventilators. We cannot afford to gamble the health of our residents, employees, and visitors.

Established in 1961 by an orchard owner, Apple Festival is a celebration of the autumn harvest and Bayfield's agricultural heritage. More than 50,000 visitors come to the area during the festival to tour the orchards, wineries, cideries and peruse fine arts and crafts from over 100 vendors while sampling local foods at more than 60 food booths. All vendors will be refunded in full in 2020 and invited to participate next year.

Bayfield Apple Festival has been a Bayfield tradition for 58 years, and the Bayfield Chamber & Visitor Bureau will soon begin planning for 2021 to continue the tradition. But as Marketing Director Paige Rautio explains, there's more to Bayfield than this festival. "I look forward to showing people the genuine Bayfield. One without 50,000 people taking the focus from our Victorian-style homes, quaint B&Bs, and working art studios. We have some of the best food in the state, caught or picked fresh daily. Now people have more time to pick apples and see what Bayfield has to offer."

The Bayfield Chamber & Visitor Bureau wishes to thank visitors for their support and understanding, and Bayfield looks forward to hosting the next Apple Festival on October 1–3, 2021.

ABOUT BAYFIELD CHAMBER & VISITOR BUREAU:

The Bayfield Chamber & Visitor Bureau actively supports and promotes a healthy and vibrant business climate in the Chequamegon Bay region, currently serving approximately 400 members. Bayfield Chamber & Visitor Bureau promotes the unique natural beauty, cultural heritage, and recreational opportunity within the Bayfield area incuding the Apostle Islands, attracting visitors through marketing and destination development.

Dear Community,

The Red Cliff Outreach Site of Lac Courte Oreilles Ojibwe College—a.k.a. "the Cabin"—has officially re-opened. Students enrolled in Summer classes will continue to attend class from home but may now utilize the Cabin as a place to do homework, print/scan, craft, or receive student advising. Prospective students are also encouraged to stop by to learn more about our program offerings and register for courses. Fall term will begin August 31, 2020. Occasionally we will have work that takes us off site, so if you want to be sure to connect with us, you can always make an appointment via email, phone, or Facebook. Fall registration can also be done completely virtually.

We are still very concerned about the spread of COVID. Please be respectful when visiting the Cabin and adhere to recommended practices—do not come to the Cabin if you are sick, please practice good hygiene, meet outside and maintain 6 feet of separation as much as possible and/or wear a mask and gloves. During the threat of COVID, the Cabin will maintain a maximum occupancy of 6 people. We don't foresee this being a challenge as the Cabin is usually pretty quiet during the summer.

There is a lot that is unsettled right now in the world and in our community. If you are wanting to speak with Jim Pete, he is usually available in the mornings. If you are wanting to talk through educational hopes and concerns (related to yourself and your children), Magdalen is usually available in the afternoons. We welcome conversation.

EPA Fines Enbridge $6.7M For Failing To Swiftly Address Cracks, Corrosion Through Digs

By Danielle Kaeding From WPR

The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency is fining Canadian energy firm Enbridge $6.7 million for failing to swiftly address cracks and corrosion through digs on its pipelines.

The company was required to meet certain thresholds for identifying and repairing cracks and corrosion on its lines as part of a 2017 consent decree stemming from oil spills in 2010, including the Kalamazoo River spill in Michigan. The release is considered one of the largest inland spills in the nation's history, when an Enbridge pipeline ruptured and released at least 843,000 gallons of oil into Talmadge Creek and the Kalamazoo River. The spill cost the company at least $1.2 billion to clean up.

Two months later, another Enbridge pipeline released roughly 269,000 gallons of oil near Romeoville, Illinois.

In a May 8 letter, the U.S. EPA said Enbridge failed to take swift action following inspections on several occasions to address cracks, corrosion, and an alarm outage on its lines.

The company waited as long as 240 days in one instance before adding several corrosion features to its dig list for excavation and repair on Line 6A, now known as Line 6, which originates in Superior. The pipeline carries up to 667,000 barrels per day of light, medium and heavy crude oil across Wisconsin to Griffith, Indiana.

As part of the consent decree, EPA required Enbridge to add corrosion or cracks that required excavation to its dig list within five days of completing a preliminary review. The agency added actions should in no way take place more than 180 days after inspection. The company said all digs were conducted in the time allotted under the consent decree and could not have completed excavation any faster.

In addition, the EPA said the company failed to swiftly identify and review thousands of "shallow dents" on its pipelines.

"As a result, Enbridge failed to excavate and repair or mitigate shallow dents with indications of metal loss, cracking, or stress risers," the agency wrote.

In a follow-up letter, Enbridge said all the issues cited are being resolved, and the company has agreed to pay all fines. Mike Koby, vice president of Enbridge U.S. Liquid Operations, said in a media conference call Thursday that there was never any threat to safety or the environment.

"All pipelines in the Lakehead System continue to operate safely and reliably," said Koby.

Enbridge said the penalties were "largely administrative" that amounted to failure to submit paperwork during the required timeline in some cases. Koby noted the company did not believe cracks identified during an inspection on its Line 4 met the criteria for a follow-up dig and repair. But, they were later added to the list after a follow-up review.

The company added it had already decreased pressure on Line 6A and used vapor corrosion inhibitor injections to address corrosion on the pipeline. The injections are used to slow down and stop corrosion within pipelines.

"It is a measure that we employ across our system, but, per the consent decree, we're not allowed to use that as a primary method for dealing with certain corrosion features," said Koby. Enbridge also noted that other leak detection measures were in place on Line 67 during the 173-day outage of its 24-hour alarm.

The company said penalties related to the "shallow dents" the EPA referenced were largely related to its Line 1 pipeline that runs from Edmonton, Alberta, to Superior. The company said compliance issues were the result of a technical disagreement over what features warranted further review and repair. Enbridge said it's since addressed hundreds of additional features and conducted digs to inspect the integrity of its lines, finding no threats to pipeline safety.

The Canadian energy firm was previously fined $1.8 million in 2018 for failing to meet inspection deadlines on its pipelines, including on segments of Line 5 running from Superior to Iron River in 2017. Enbridge denied inspections violated terms of the consent decree. The company said inspections occurred a few days later than required timelines in a couple instances but all required maintenance was completed.
