City of Temple and Draughon-Miller Central Texas Regional Airport honored with National/Regional Airport of the Year award

TEMPLE, TX (May 1, 2024) – The City of Temple and Draughon-Miller Central Texas Regional Airport are proud to announce their receipt of the esteemed National/Regional Airport of the Year Award from the Texas Department of Transportation, Aviation Division. This prestigious recognition was unveiled during the Texas Aviation Conference on Thursday, April 25, 2024, marking a significant achievement for Temple's aviation sector.

The National/Regional Airport of the Year Award is a testament to the exceptional service and commitment to excellence demonstrated by Draughon-Miller Central Texas Regional Airport. This accolade underscores the airport's pivotal role in promoting safety, efficiency, and innovation in air travel within the region.

"I am so proud of Team Temple and the work we do to make our airport the best in Texas," said Airport Director Sean Parker. "Many thanks to our Mayor, Council, City Manager's Office, and Airport Advisory Board for all your support. I'm in awe of our great staff that works hard every day to ensure we provide a beautiful, safe, and efficient airport with the best customer service out there."

The award is a testament to the collaborative efforts of the City of Temple, airport staff, and stakeholders in maintaining Draughon-Miller Central Texas Regional Airport's status as a premier aviation facility. From state-of-the-art infrastructure to unparalleled customer service, the airport exemplifies excellence in all facets of operation.
