

Sunday, January 7, 2018 – 6:00 pm

As of 5:45pm Sunday Jan 7th - only few changes since this morning (see below for additional details).

- The National Weather Service (NWS) has lowered the forecast low temps. for tonight slightly - lows will likely range from 4 to 6 degrees overnight. Temps. should break the freezing mark by around lunchtime on Monday and we could be in the 60s by Thursday.
- Any melting of snow that took place today will refreeze. Many secondary roads will again be ice or snow covered, resulting in hazardous travel conditions through the Monday morning commute. Motorist are urged to use caution while driving, keeping plenty of distance between you and the other motorists. Assume anything that looks wet is black ice and use extreme caution.
- Isle of Wight County offices will open on time tomorrow morning. Town of Windsor offices are opening at noon.
- Dominion is reporting 8 customers without power in Rescue. Their system is not providing a restoration time at this time. Community Electric is reporting no customers without power.